Editorial Comment

THE ISSUE IS CLEAR

Often specific issues in election campaigns are not clear cut. In fact this general statement applies in considerable degree to the current election.

However, one issue is clear.

That's where the state and national candidates stand on the question of boycotting California farm products - in the current case, grapes.

State Senator Howard Way, State Assemblyman Gordon Duffy, Congressman Bob Mathias, U.S. Senate Candidate Max Rafferty, and Presidential Candidate Richard Nixon have left no doubt about their stands on this important issue.

They oppose the boycott.

Their opponents have either lined up strongly in favor of the boycott, or have wished and washed around it.

California agriculture - and Tulare county agriculture and Porterville agriculture - cannot afford to have men in office who line up in opposition to agriculture, men who by the record, malign California's great agricultural economy and the families who are the foundation for this economy.

There are many side issues in the boycott question - labor-management, voluntary or by-force union organization, wages, living conditions, bleeding hearts, militant activists, right to work, right to organize.

But the real basic drive is against agriculture. Knock it down. Take it over. Kill it if necessary.

Those candidates who support the grape boycott, and who would certainly support boycotts of other and all California farm products if farmers refuse to get into the line that said candidates want them in, are not the men of fairness and wisdom that agriculture needs in public office.

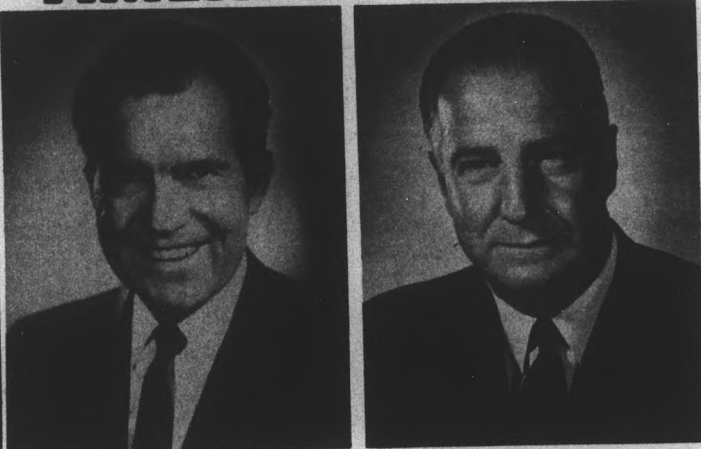

We would suggest that farmers, and all persons who directly or indirectly depend upon agriculture for their pay check, vote for the candidates who are supporting them by opposing the philosophy, and the politics and the implementation of the grape boycott.

This issue is clear cut. To California agriculture it is the most important issue of the 1968 campaign.

Both students have high scholastic records, which is one of the pre-requisites for AFS scholarship competition.

One of these mornings you'll look out and find the lawn fast disappearing under a blanket of leaves. This is known as fall. If you have lived a good clean life these leaves will blow on down the street. If you haven't they'll appear to accumulate as quickly as you remove them. This is known as fate.

Knowing the kind of life our friends lead we have a stock of sturdy leaf rakes. Some of these are thirty inches wide and remove leaves from a broad area. Some are only eighteen inches wide which is slower but adds a little more sport to the contest. For you that can't make up your mind there is a twenty-four inch rake. This is just half way between.

Apart from the leaves there is less that the gardener has to do this time of year. Mowing is easier, less water is required, and the bermuda grass relaxes its hold on the flower beds. However there are a few things that need doing soon or not at all. For instance if you wish a beautiful spring your bulbs should be planted at once. Everything from ranunculus to daffodils enjoy fall planting while the ground is moderately warm.

If you wish flowers for Memorial Day start thinking of stocks, snaps, and larkspur. Especially larkspur as it is dependable and often overlooked. We have started plants of these on "E" Street North of Olive. Still open Sundays for awhile.

WHAT'S DOING?

Every once in a while you might get a call from someone who's calling Porterville customers to sell them something over the telephone. Most of these callers are considerate. But if you've ever heard from a salesman who couldn't take your polite no's for an answer, you know it can be annoying. Well, the thing to do then is simply hang up. If the calls continue, call our business office 784-0400. We want your phone to be a convenience, not a nuisance.

Maybe you've been surprised to hear your Information operator answering lately in a new way—"Directory Assistance." And maybe you've wondered why the change. It's just this: "Directory Assistance" actually is a better description of her job, which is to help you find a number that isn't in your phone book. And here's a helpful hint: Jot down the number next time you have to call "Directory Assistance" for help. You'll have it handy when you want it, and save making two calls again when one will do.

I sure hope you've circled November 5 on your calendar. That's Election Day. Don't forget to vote.

Did you hear the one about the minister vacationing in San Francisco who decided to call another minister back home? Getting the operator on the line, he asked her to place his call. "Will this be station-to-station?" asked the operator. "No," said the reverend. "Parson-to-Parson."

PORTERVILLE STATE HOSPITAL GETS MORE MONEY AND PERSONNEL ACCORDING TO SEN. HOWARD WAY

PORTERVILLE - Porterville State hospital fared very well in the 1968-69 state mental hygiene budget, picking up 169 new nursing and psychiatric technician positions, Senator Howard Way said at a candidates meeting at the hospital last Thursday.

"There have been no cuts in funds for the care of the mentally retarded in California," Senator Way said. Cuts have occurred in the programs for the mentally ill because of the drop in case loads under the program of returning patients to their home communities through the growth of outpatient clinics.

"Statistics can be dull," Senator Way said, "but I believe they are necessary in this case to clear up some misunderstandings. Porterville State Hospital had a 1967-68 budget of $9,465,542 and a patient load of 2,401. In the 1968-69 budget, the Porterville budget is $9,644,061 while the present patient load is almost the same. The staff presently is authorized at 1,318.

"However, the new mental hygiene budget at state level includes an augmentation fund of $3,109,832 for improvement of patient care for both the mentally ill and the mentally retarded, and this includes 339 new nursing or psychiatric technician positions, of which Porterville will receive 169. The governor has also signed budget items for four new regional centers for the mentally handicapped at a cost of $709,570.

"Hospitals for the mentally ill have had a patient decrease, largely because of better local mental health facilities, from 36,207 in 1960 to 19,836 last year," the Senator continued. "The governor has told the department of mental health to accept the 1967 principles of staffing as recommended by the commission on staffing standards, as opposed to the old standards set in 1952 used by the previous administration.

"In addition, he has set 70 square feet per patient for housing as against the old standard of 55 square feet, and nine out of ten of our hospitals for the mentally ill are now using these standards.

"I think we can safely say that California's mental health care is being greatly improved and that it will be especially true in the case of Porterville if the people can be found to fill the newly authorized positions."

America Wants You!

America needs patriots!
She needs hard-working, conscientious people who believe in law and order, work hard at their jobs, pay their taxes, and who try to raise their children to be good citizens.

If you're fed up with the moral climate of the country these days, then we're proud of you! We are too.

We're tired of riots and revolution—disgusted with sick movies and trashy books — disillusioned with politicians who throw away your money on incompetently managed poverty programs.

Many politicians and intellectuals tell you this nation's "sickness" is all your fault! Are you going to reward these critics with your vote? Are you going to support any candidate who urges city housewives not to buy California grapes?

Let's put a stop to all this nonsense! Let's put a concerned American in office — someone who believes in this great country and in the responsible, law-abiding working people who sustain it.

CONGRESSMAN BOB Mathias receives the "Watchdog of the Treasury Award" from John C. Mason, president of the National Associated Businessmen, Inc. The award is presented at the end of each Congress to those members of the House and Senate who have achieved outstanding economy voting records during the previous two years. The NAB gave Mathias an 81% rating. Among the 12 issues on which the rating was determined were the June 1967 debt limit increase, the Gold Cover removal, this year's Arts and Humanities Foundation authorization, and the mandatory $6 billion spending cut imposed on the administration. After receiving the award, Mathias said, "I believe we have to keep government spending under control. When the government gets out of hand with huge deficits, the result is inflation, the loss of important export markets and a gold drain."

REPORTS GIVEN AT TERRA BELLA 4-H CLUB MEETING

TERRA BELLA - A number of reports were given at October meeting of the Terra Bella 4-H club, held in the Memorial building, with President Marian Knutson presiding.

Linda Rohwer and Marian Knutson told of their trip to the 4-H Leadership conference at Davis last August, with Linda attending as a Junior leadership winner, and Marian as a delegate of the Terra Bella club.

Marla Tritch reported that the Terra Bella 4-H booth placed fifth at the 1968 Tulare County fair, winning $30; she also reported on a Junior Leadership conference held October 12 in Visalia.

Jeanette Winfree gave a demonstration on her weed project and Marian Knutson gave a demonstration with her Guide dog. Marian won a trophy for guide dog obedience at the Kern County fair as a representative of Tulare county in competition with 4-H members and their guide dogs from throughout the state.

It was announced that the Terra Bella club has been invited by the Ducor 4-H club to a skating party to be held October 24, 7:30-10:00 p.m., at the Skateway in Porterville.

Because of the Veterans' Day holiday on November 11, date for the next club meeting was set for November 3, instead of on the usual second Monday of the month.

Following the meeting songs were led by Mrs. Arlan Knutson and Linda Rohwer. Cookies, made by boys in the cooking class, were served by the boys under leadership of Mrs. Lee Conkin.

OUR TOWN

By Ruth Loyd

I understand that other famous columnists have had this little problem also. Here I am in front of my trusty typewriter, my fat little fingers eager and willing to type and my little brain is full of nothing. I would chuck the whole thing, and go and do the dishes, but Bill starts screaming. I just know you are in tears about the whole thing. You have been waiting all this time for words of wisdom, and all you are going to get is crumbs. Sorry about that.

I could tell you about my sweetpeas. Yes, Virginia, they came up beautifully, but Max Beckley hasn't put up my fence and they don't know where to go. I know where Max should go, but that's not nice. My pansies were planted according to directions, but I watered them too much, and now they are little pathetic clumps of yellow leaves. I just hate to tell John Daybell. He had such hopes for me and my pansies. The calendulas are having a hard time. I didn't water them enough, and they look very sick. I had to call Madelyn Keck to find out how to spell, calendulas. She's a very good speller, and I'm glad. Benora Pohlman had planted beautiful roses in this yard when she lived here, and they are doing nicely. I water them very carefully, and they are just as lovely as Benora. Which is saying a great deal. Enough of my horticultural attempts. I just was not born with a green thumb. My thumbs seem to be all brown, and kind of dead.

Jim Hanson asked me to go on the Pan Am flight around California with the rest of the wheels. It certainly pays to be a famous columnist. We leave next Wednesday from Fresno. Five of us are going from here. Bill isn't going so there should be enough champagne for all of us. Sandy Ward is going too, and I'm not too sure about him. With the champagne there will be hors d'oeuvres. Have you ever tried to look that word up in the dictionary? I kept looking through the O's, and it started with an H all the time. All I know about them is that they are very fattening, and I like anything that is fattening. We should be able to see lots of California in an hour and a half from a big Pan Am Jet, and I can hardly wait.

The Olympics were so well covered this year. Every time the Veterans' Memorial auditorium, reported that program plans are being completed. A special invitation, he said, is extended to members of minority groups, veterans of the Vietnam war and their families, and the families of all men and women who gave their lives in America's wars.

Handling of the downtown Porterville parade that will lead off the November 11 celebration at 10 a.m. was discussed with Bob Searle, Porterville city police captain.

The parade will form in the area north of Morton avenue, move down Main street to Walnut, and break up there, with units turning both east and west. No parking will be allowed on the parade route; through traffic will move on D and Second streets; Cleveland avenue will be kept open for emergency vehicles.

Police sirens, set off during the parade at 11 a.m., will be the signal that movement and sound will stop, and parade participants and spectators will face the east for a minute of silence as a tribute to the dead in U.S. wars.

The Automobile Club of Southern California will have an emergency vehicle working along the line of parade march to take care of any trouble that might develop with parade entries.

Permission was granted the Methodist church to operate a coffee and donut booth along the parade route; all concessionaires and vendors must have permission to operate from the Veterans' day committee, with out-of-town vendor to be under control of city police.

Next meeting of the celebration committee will be held Monday, October 28, at 7:30 p.m. in the American Legion hall.

The Veterans Day and Homecoming celebration is sponsored by Post 20, The American Legion, and by Mount Whitney Post 2001, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Invitations are being sent by the Porterville chamber to Poplar, Woodville, Terra Bella, Springville, Strathmore, and Lindsay chambers of commerce; to the San Joaquin valley division of the state chamber of commerce; to members of the State Highway commission, and to members of the Tulare county chamber of commerce highway committee.

All interested persons are invited to attend the dedication ceremony, the "coffee break" at Ducor and the luncheon at the Paul Bunyan. Luncheon reservations should be made at the Porterville chamber office by no later than November 4.

Importance of the newly-opened section of 65 freeway, according to Lyon and Rodgers, is that 65 freeway is now an excellent route from freeway 99 north of Bakersfield to Lindsay, and is the most direct route from southern California to Mineral King and

SPRINGVILLE HOBBY CLUB OBSERVES 20th ANNIVERSARY WITH LUNCHEON AT PAUL BUNYAN

SPRINGVILLE - Members of the Springville Hobby club met Friday noon at the Paul Bunyan in Porterville to observe the 20th anniversary of the founding of the club.

Following the luncheon, members introduced themselves, told of their hobbies and what the club has meant to them. Mrs. Ethel Rush read a poem, Minnie Hensley gave a recitation; and Earline Carpenter presented some of her original poems, and gave a reading.

Displayed during the luncheon were three tables of hobby displays, including handmade dolls, decorated to the recreation areas of Sequoia National Forest and Sequoia National park. The freeway also has considerable importance as a farm to market road.

Continuation of new construction on a realignment of freeway 65 from Lindsay to highway 198 is now the top priority recommendation on the Tulare County highway development plan.

bottles, embroidery work, knitting, weaving, crocheting, jewelry, driftwood and feathers, quilts, rugs, articles made of discarded cards, photographs, scrap books, shell craft, egg cartons and berry baskets.

The Springville Hobby club was organized in October of 1948 with 17 members in the home of Mrs. Winnie Gage, who was elected president. Through the years, the club has had 96 members.

Included among club projects are the showing of ribbon-winning floats in local parades; assisting patients in the Springville hospital; sponsoring several hobby shows; entering a booth in the Tulare county fair; and buying and planting seeds and setting out moss along Highway 190.

Next meeting of the club is set for November 15, at the home of Mrs. Juanita Radeleff.
